12. Indicative Content:

This course will provide students with solid knowledge and understanding of the basic principles of Oil painting and its application. Students will learn practical skills in handling materials and equipment appropriately. Each student will receive one-to-one tuition from the tutor on the choice of subject matter, the rendering of their drawing, the application of paint, and their approach to layering paint. Their practice will be critiqued regularly throughout the course. Students will be encouraged to improve upon their technique whilst working to develop their practice and enhance their skill set. Students will be asked to pay particular attention to their practices away from the canvas, including making preparatory sketches, employing colour studies, how they manage their palette and how they approach their subject matter.

Students will be required to look at the work of historical and contemporary painters during the course in order to gain heightened critical awareness. They will be encouraged to utilise the techniques of other artists in their own work and will be required to develop a contextual awareness of artists, styles and movements. In addition they will be encouraged to visit art galleries and permanent exhibitions.

13. Description of Summative Assessment Methods:

This course is assessed by the submission of a body of visual art within the discipline of Oil Painting. This will include a selection of resolved works, preparatory studies, visual research and evidence of a contextual awareness through a completed sketchbook and/ or visual journal. The work must be presented in a clear and professional manner appropriate to the discipline. The submission should include work undertaken within the class as well as directed and private study out with the class.

Assessment breakdown:

1. Studio Practice: Applied Knowledge and Understanding – 80%
2. Self-directed research and study – 20%

13.1 Please describe the Summative Assessment arrangements:

Summative assessment occurs at the end of the course. Students should present their finalised collection of work, balanced between work done in the studio and work achieved in a self-directed context including developmental work and a sketchbook.

Each student's work will be assessed by the tutor and another member of staff in the presence of the student. An assessment checklist will be completed. Submitted work will be assessed in accordance with the GSA Code of Assessment.

14. Description of Formative Assessment Methods:

Engagement with formative assessment is a mandatory requirement.

Throughout the course students will take part in the following:

- One-to-one tutorials enabling students to note feedback and critique remarks
- Peer evaluation in group critiques where students have the opportunity to assess their own work and each other's.
