THE GLASGOW SCHOOL OF ART

BOARD OF GOVERNORS

PUBLICATION OF BOARD AGENDAS AND MINUTES

The GSA has clear obligations under the Scottish Code of Good HE Governance to publish the agenda and minutes of the meetings of the Board of Governors. The Code also makes clear that papers considered at Board meetings should be made available to staff and students, unless this would breach confidentiality or would not be in the interests of the institution.

The following general principles apply:

- GSA publishes the Board agendas and minutes on the website therefore making these available to staff, students and the wider community, with, where appropriate, redactions applied and evident.
- GSA Board papers are available on request with, where appropriate, redactions applied and evident.
- Any redactions applied should seek to comply with the Freedom of Information (Scotland) Act 2002.
- Board agendas and minutes are only published and Board papers made available after the subsequent Board has taken place.
- The Board expects senior management to ensure that their review of papers in advance of being made available is timeous and to a high standard.

This statement is displayed on GSA's website.
